What is AACY?

American Association of Caregiving Youth (AACY)

- Florida based non-profit corporation
- Established in 1998
- The only organization in the US dedicated solely to addressing caregiving youth issues
- Established the Caregiving Youth Institute in 2014

Caregiving Youth Project (CYP)

- Established in 2006 by AACY
- Addresses the needs of pre-teens, teens, families, and professionals through education, awareness, research and direct services
- Brings together healthcare, education, and the community
- Works in partnership with school districts

Who are the Caregiving Youth?

- ♥ Children & adolescents <18 years of age who provide significant assistance to relatives or household members who need help due to:

- ♥ At least 1.4 million caregiving youth, ages 8 to 18, exist nationwide as of 2005

The Impact on Caregiving Youth

Caregiving Youth
spend an average of 20 hours a week caring for loved ones

They sacrifice
their education,
physical and emotional well-being

They become isolated from friends & lack socialization

They miss experiencing
their own
childhood
